Surviving Toxic Terrorism

Synopsis

Details Steve Wohlberg Our nightmare began on a beautiful summer day in July of 2007. My wife, Kristin, our three-year-old son, Seth, and I were peacefully driving down northern California's scenic Interstate Highway 101 among the towering redwoods when calamity struck like lightning from a clear blue sky. "Something's wrong with Seth!" Kristin unexpectedly yelled after glancing backward at our child who had fallen asleep in his car seat just moments before. Immediately, I flashed a look behind me (I was driving) and was shocked to see our little boy convulsing and jerking. Panic gripped me. Quickly, I pulled over, jumped into the back seat and shook my son gently. "Seth? Are you having a bad dream? Wake up!" Steve Wohlberg shares the personal testimony of their journey to find answers for their son's sickness. The answers he found were shocking and are answers you need to discover as well. This new pocket-sized sharing book will enlighten you as to the dangerous world of the toxins in the world around us. Be sure to stock up so you can share! Very informative, I think EVERY PARENT that has anything going on with their child such a sickness, etc. should read this, it's ONLY A DOLLAR! You know he's trying to help people if it's only a $1 to purchase, you won't regret it. It's actually not just for parents, but EVERYONE who lives in this polluted world.

This topic should be of growing concern to everyone as more mysterious problems occur. There is a big rise in children's allergies, etc. Steve lays out the facts in a way we can easily understand. I wish everyone would read this book

I read this book and found it to be very helpful. I have read other articles about toxins, but this is the first I have read with a personal testimonial. I am doing research on the best and most effective way to detox my body. I want to be clean and free for the Trinity.

Brilliant booklet, informative and very well put together! Would highly recommend to all to read! No matter if you think you live a healthy lifestyle we are constantly bombarded with toxins from everywhere.... our water, our air, our soils let alone all the other toxic chemicals we put on ourselves daily

This little book is very informative, and extremely interesting. The author's experience with toxins and how he and his family were able to resolve his son's problems is great information that I have already been able to pass along to a friend.
